

What knowledge, skill set, and resources will serve you well in effectively advising LGBTQ students on study abroad?

In what ways can a co-constructed partnership learning model serve as a key component of your advising practices for all students, including LGBTQ students?

What are some guiding questions that would facilitate LGBTQ students' critical self-reflections in regards to studying and learning abroad?