

What type of self-care strategy resonated with you the most and why?

What is one new self-care practice, discussed in this course that you would like to try and how do you plan to implement it into your daily life and/or while leading programs abroad?

Who are your communities of support (make a list of important contact information) that you anticipate connecting with while leading programs abroad?